Charge 8 After Vice Raid

Immoral Acts Alleged

Charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor were filed today against eight persons arrested in a "love-nest" raid at 32½ West Fourth street Saturday night. The eight named in the charges were:

Marilyn Jackson, 22, of 1016 Park avenue west; Mrs. Elsie Ramona Graves, 20, Akron; Evelyn Sprague, 18, of 11½ North Diamond street; John J. Weber, 22, of 264 Park avenue east; Joseph Ralph Barto, 27, Charles Lester Perry, 22, of 32½ West Fourth street; Noble Keith Perry, 19, of 32½ West Fourth street, and Guy Long jr., 25, 32½ West Fourth street. Each is being held on $1,000 bond.

Also arrested in the raid was a 13-year-old Eighth avenue girl. Charges held that the girl had been taken to the apartment for immoral purposes and had received instruction in many sordid details of illicit love.

The youngster is being held also in city jail as a principal witness for the trial which has been set for Friday according to Assistant Prosecutor James J. Mayer.

The complaint filed by Police Capt. Clare Kyler also charges the eight were members of a group that continuously gathered for the immoral purposes and drunkenness at 32½ West Fourth street.

PREVIOUS OFFENDER

Weber was arrested for a similar charge in 1944 and was placed on probation for six months after a 90 day county jail sentence was suspended.

At the time of that arrest he was caught by officers drinking beer with a 17-year-old girl in a parked car. He was released from probation when he entered the army a month later.

Mrs. Graves and the Sprague woman are sisters according to police records.

The nine were arrested Saturday night after neighbors complained of cursing and "wild parties." The group was also charged with holding "bennie binges," a slang phrase for a form of intoxication.

Police raided the apartment shortly before 8 p. m. Saturday and took the group to the police headquarters in two loads in a police cruiser.

Steel Talks Under Way

PITTSBURGH — (UP) —With the strike deadline 10 days away, U. S. Steel corporation and CIO President Philip Murray resumed contract talks today.

"Big steel" was to give its formal answer to the CIO United Steelworkers demands for a $150 monthly pension, an unspecified wage increase and improved insurance benifits.

The USW's newspaper "Steel Labor" revealed that the corporation so far "skipped over" the legal arguments presented by the union that pensions are a part of wages. The union paper said the corporation was "adamant" in its "anti-pension stand."

The outcome of "big steel's" contract talks will be a big factor in determining the nation's economy in the next year. Present negotiations usually set a pattern for more than 1,000,000 steel workers.

A parent must accompany each youngster who registers for the race which is scheduled July 23. Entry deadline is Friday at 10 p. m.

Competitors in the 1949 Derby will be shooting for $1,000 in prizes.

Treason Trial Begins

SAN FRANCISCO —(INS) —The government begins presentation of testimony today in the treason trial of Iva Toguri "Tokyo Rose" D'Aquino.

The defense has said it will resist the prosecution's case every step of the way in its battle to exonerate the Los Angeles-born daughter of a Chicago Japanese grocer.

Assistant Attorney General Tom De Wolfe, heading the government's legal battery, will make the opening government statement in the San Francisco court of Federal Judge Michael J. Roche.

De Wolfe's remarks are slated to be followed by the start of a procession of some 71 government witnesses to the stand.

One major part of the prosecution's case already has been marked by the defense for heavy fire before an all-Caucasian jury of six men and six women chosen with unexpected rapidity yesterday.

PROMISES FIGHT

When chief defense Lawyer Wayne Collins took a look at mechanical trappings set up in the courtroom by the government he let it be known at once he would fight vigorously to exclude their use.

The trappings consist of a record player, an amplifier, a control panel and earphones for judge and jurors. They are intended to reproduce "Tokyo Rose" broadcasts made to GI's and other allied forces in the Pacific theater during the war.

The 33-year-old Mrs. D'Aquino who was really only one of several "Tokyo Roses"—is alleged to have made these broadcasts with the intent of betraying the land of her birth to the country of her ancestors.

The maximum penalty facing the Nisei woman if she is convicted of giving "aid and comfort to an enemy of the United States" is death. Minimum penalty for conviction is a five-year prison sentence and/or a $10,000 fine.

Confesses Killing 2

EUREKA, Calif., — (AP) — A husky, 34 - year - old merchant mariner and ex-convict surrendered last night and in a signed statement admitted the Fourth of July bludgeon slayings of two men in a cabin overlooking the Valley of the Moon.

The man, Henry Brun Guldbrandsen, gave himself up to Ed Neumeier, a cub reporter, and Elmer Hodgkinson, editor of the Humboldt Times.

In a long, wandering statement, he for the most part corroborated the hysterical tale told by Mrs. Eva Paget, 27-year-old mother of two. Her story of rape and murder set off one of the most intensive manhunts in recent northern California history.

But Guldbrandsen denied he had raped Mrs. Paget, a Berkeley woman who had been vacationing in Jack London's old territory 200 miles south of here in the Sonoma valley. Guldbrandsen said she had submitted to him to "soothe" him, after he had bludgeoned her.

Guldbrandsen signed a statement, first for the newspaper and later for the sheriff's office. Admitting slaying his friend, Lt. Peter J. Flint, 31, of the merchant marine, and Flint's longtime friend, Peter J. Jensen, 55, landscape gardener for the Sonoma state hospital.

AVC To Sponsor Governor's Trip

CINCINNATI — (INS) — The controversy over the Buckeye Girls' state Negro governor was settled today by the American Veterans committee.

The AVC stepped into the breach and said it would sponsor Governor Joan Rankin's trip to attend the Girls' Nation in Washington, D. C.

The American Legion auxiliary advised Joan not to go. They said they were trying to save her the embarrassment of race prejudice in the nation's capital.

HOTTER THAN BLAZES—It's a large order when a photographer is told to get a picture of someone looking as hot as everybody is feeling these days. The camera just wouldn't pick up all the details, so a few were added with a touch-up brush and water color. The result is the cameraman's conception of how a gardener feels in the blazing sun of mid-afternoon. The obliging "victim" is Harold Wagner, 63 Brickman avenue.

Korea Backs China Plea

Hints Anti-Red Pact In Pacific

SEOUL — (INS) — South Kostaunchly supported today Chiang Kai-Shek's call for American aid against communism in Asia and said the Chinese Generalissimo would be welcomed in Korea to discuss a Pacific alliance.

Many of his remarks took the form of comments on an interview granted on Formosa by Generalissimo Chiang to Howard Handleman, INS Far Eastern director, and another American correspondent.

The president of South Korea, whose border troops engage in frequent skirmishes with Soviet - backed forces on communist - governed North Korea, inferentially differed with Chiang in only one respect.

This was in reference to the Chinese Generalissimo's assertion that all Asia would be overrun by the communists if the Reds complete the conquest of China.

"We believe we can maintain and defend our democracy," Rhee said.

But he qualified it with the phrase — "as long as we receive an adequate supply of economic and military aid from the United States."

FCC Investigation Planned

New Inquiry Aimed At Arbitrary Tactics

Another congressional investigation of the Federal Communications commission is about to get under way.

The new inquiry is scheduled to start Monday in Washington by a judiciary sub-committee of the House of Representatives, according to dispatches from the Capital.

The probe will be under direction of Rep. Francis E. Walter, Pennsylvania Democrat described by Broadcasting magazine as an "outspoken critic of the FCC." Walter has stated that there is $10,000 available for the investigation.

Detailed plans for the investigation and formulation of the hearing agenda are under way this week, according to Broadcasting.

AIMED AT OPERATIONS

Rep. Walter is the second ranking member of the judiciary committee, which is headed by Rep. Emanuel Celler, New York Democrat.

In commenting on the new forthcoming probe, Broadcasting magazine, leading radio trade publication, stated:

"The FCC's operations under the Administrative Procedure Act are expected to be the primary target. Congressman Walter, co-author of the act, served notice of his intent to investigate almost two months ago, when he told the House that FCC was guilty of 'flagrant and willful violations' of this law."

Broadcasting said that investigation on this score "presumably would concentrate fire on FCC's law bureau more than any other division."

Walter has scored the FCC on the use of "dictum and policy pronouncement" in its operation in lieu of formal rule-making on such subjects as newspaper and motion picture ownership of radio stations, charging that "neither a broadcaster nor his lawyer can say with certainty what is banned or what is permitted."

Rep. Walter has been outspoken in his criticism of what he has termed FCC's "sidestepping" of major issues, specifically naming the clear-channel case, proposed lottery rules, multiple ownership regulations and universal advertising of broadcast applications, the magazine said.

Will Open Phone 'Battle'

Council To Act On Rate Boost

City council will open its fight against increased telephone rates in Mansfield at its meeting tonight.

A resolution, completed today, will be presented to council at the meeting, Nelson Swihart, chairman of the utilities committee, said.

The resolution authorizes council to take whatever steps are necessary to file the proper objections to Mansfield Telephone company's proposed rates increase, City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch said.

There will be no definite action recommended by the resolution, Kalbfleisch said.

More study is required before council's plan for filing its objection is completed, he said.

One of the methods that has been discussed is to hire a rates expert to study the telephone company's application, and carry council's opposition to the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

The application for a rates increase is now under study by the PUCO.

PUBLIC HEARING

There will be an open public hearing on the application before any rate increase is granted, or denied, officials of the PUCO have stated.

Council also will study the generad funds budget for 1950 prepared by its finance committee and city department heads.

The budget requests $798,504 from the general fund for the operation of city departments in 1950. That is some $207,947 more than was appropriated for the departments this year, but $27,000 less than was requested for this year.

Following council's approval of the budget it is submitted to the county budget committee, where it has in past years, been greatly reduced.

Also up for council action tonight is the appropriation of $1,500 from the general fund for repairs to a house at Clear Fork reservoir, which will be the home of the reservoir's caretaker.

The ordinance that created the job of caretaker stipulated the house was to be furnished by the city rent free, and that fact was taken into consideration when the salary for the job was set.

However, city officials say the house in its present condition is not suitable for occupancy.

The caretaker, Lester Cullen, has been living in his home in the city, since his appointment more than a month ago.

Mine Parleys Open July 19

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers and the nation's northern and western soft coal operators have pushed back resumption of their contract talks from July 12 to July 19.

Announcement of the delay was made yesterday by Ezra Van Horn, spokesman for the operators, as the miners ended their annual 10 - day holiday and began the first three - day work week ordered by Lewis.

Van Horn would not discuss the postponement, other than to say the delay was agreed upon to give both the UMW and the operators an opportunity to "canvass mutual problems which are expected to come up."

Strachan Quits City Garbage Post

Resigns To Operate Shenandoah Store

Al Strachan, of 270 South Mulberry street, superintendent of Mansfield's garbage department since November, 1945, today submitted his resignation to Mayor Roy W. Vaughn.

Following his resignation, effective Aug. 15, Strachan will operate a general store at Shenandoah, a village about 12 miles north of here, he said.

The business, recently purchased by Strachan, is now operating under the name of Lomax's General store.

Mayor Vaughn said Strachan's resignation came as a surprise.

Strachan was employed by the city during the years of 1936 and 1937, and left to join the State Highway department.

He returned to the city's payroll in November, 1945, as superintendent of the garbage department.

In his letter to Mayor Vaughn, announcing his resignation, Strachan said:

"It has been a pleasure to work with our Mayor, and all the other city employes. I shall always remember the fine cooperation I received and value your friendship.

"As you know, my wife and I have purchased a small business of our own and we are very anxious to get it started."

Asks Arms For France

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, suggested today that the administration's arms - for - Europe program be limited to France because it alone on the European continent could "stand up" to aggression.

The one billion 130 million dollar European rearmament program, though not formally before Congress, is part and parcel of current Senate debate on ratification of the North Atlantic Security pact.

Sen. Vandenberg (R) Mich., the GOP foreign policy spokesman, takes the floor today to deliver a major address in support of the 12 - nation alliance. Sen. Donnell (R) Mo., a pact critic, said he is ready to follow Vandenberg.

Taft disclosed that he has found the State department "primarily interested" in arms aid to France. He added that he could see no objection to providing military assistance to France.

Boilermakers' Noise Irks Paperhanger

SEATTLE —(AP)— The Boilermakers' union was in the middle of a tense session last night when a speaker rose to demand:

"Let's forget about the boilermakers and get down to discussing the business of our own union."

Inspection of the speaker's membership book showed he was in the wrong meeting.

He was a member of Local 300, Paperhangers, Painters and Decorators, meeting down the hall.

NEW PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Acting Mayor Thomas E. Jenkins, 68, died yesterday of a heart attack.

Mercury Hits 95 In City

Torrid Blast Kills 400

Mansfield sizzled in 95-degree heat yesterday, the hottest day of the year, and the weatherman said today there's no relief in sight before the end of the week.

The 95-degree reading was recorded at the city sewage disposal plant off Park avenue east, an official weather station. The airport reported an official reading of 92, while thermometers in the downtown area showed readings up to nearly 100 degrees.

Partly-overcast skies kept the mercury down to 86 at noon today, but there were indications the afternoon reading would top 90 easily.

The heat wave, which hit most of the nation, was blamed for the death of nearly 400 persons in the past four days. More than 20 persons were overcome by the heat yesterday in various parts of the state, and more than 10 deaths, five in Cincinnati alone, were attributed to the weather.

Youngstown's 104 degrees topped the mercury readings in the state, followed closely by Springfield with 103 and Ironton with 100. Other high readings included Toledo's 99.3, highest this year and a record for July 5; Cleveland, 96; Cincinnati, 97, and Columbus, 96.

Columbus was about the only Ohio city to get even temporary relief from the heat yesterday. An early afternoon shower of 1.06 inches of rain sent the mercury down to 77 from 96. A late afternoon shower brought the mercury down to 73, but only temporarily.

Scattered showers throughout the state are expected to keep temperatures down slightly today, but not enough to make much difference.

HOT IN ARCTIC AREA

Even the Arctic Circle is having a heat wave, according to a dispatch today from Spitzbergen, Norway.

Sheriff Haakon blasted open the first telephone connection between the Norwegian polar dependency and the mainland with the observation:

"What we need up here right now is refrigerators. We've had difficulty keeping food fresh the last few weeks because of the heat wave. It's been up to 50 degrees fahrenheit."

Truck Kills Shelby Boy

Harold Junior Day, 16, of Shelby, was killed instantly in Fostoria at 2:04 p. m. Tuesday when he fell from a vegetable truck and a wheel passed over his head.

Born in Jackstown, Ky., the youth had been living in Shelby with a half-brother, Renie Day. Other survivors include his father, George; a brother, Joseph; and a sister, Miss Dessy Day, all of Mansfield, R. D. 3, and two other half-brothers, William of Shelby and Homer of Middletown

Sleds Sell Rapidly In 'Hot' Sale

MOUNT VERNON—(AP)—The sign in the hardware store said: "All sleds half price."

Outside the mercury climbed into the 90s for the 10th consecutive day.

But, it wasn't a gag. The store was selling out all merchandise. Even its sleds were selling, too, the manager said.

It's No Longer Place For Whispering

Librarians Work Midst Din of Workmen's Hammers

Although work on the remodeling project at the Mansfield Public library got under way yesterday afternoon, Miss Lois MacKellar, chief librarian, said the library will remain open for business as usual as long as possible.

The circulation desk on the main floor has been moved up in front of the entrance and all stacks have been moved out of the rear so that workmen may begin construction of a temporary wall in front of the permanent wall at the rear of the building.

When the temporary wall is completed, the permanent wall will be torn out and an addition to the first floor built on at the rear.

Miss MacKellar said some service to patrons will have to be curtailed during the remodeling project, but most books in general circulation will be available as usual. All of the bound volumes of Mansfield newspapers and the bound volumes of magazines more than five years old have been stored away temporarily and will not be available for at least a few weeks.

Only one reading room will be available at the library until the new periodical room is completed, Miss MacKellar said. She added there will be considerable noise in the building while construction work is being done, but this is unavoidable.

The remodeling project includes extension of the building to the rear to provide additional stack room and county space, removal of the bank in front of the library to make a street level entrance, installation of new rest rooms, and the building of a garage for the bookmobile.

When the construction work is completed, the children's room will be moved to the basement which will then be the ground floor, and what is now the main floor will be devoted entirely to adult service.

Although it is not definitely known when remodeling will be completed, contracts stipulate the work must be finished within six months.

Welcomes Opportunity To Relate Story of American Union Abuses

NEW YORK—I anticipate with pleasure my appearance before a sub-committee of the committee on labor of the House of Representatives to testify regarding abuses committed by unions as fostered, subsidized and maintained for many troubled years by the Roosevelt administration and its legatee.

The topic which this sub-committee has put to me is the absence of democracy in unions. I know little, if anything, about that because I am not interested in democracy anywhere except to oppose it. Where it isn't, I don't miss it. No committee of Congress has any right to spend our money chasing any such firefly. If the committee were sincere and not out to make medicine for the Democratic party it would look for practises in unions which violate the republican process. This nation is a republic.

In my preparation for this hearing it has occurred to me that unions have been outrageously exempt from a type of inspection to which business firms and associations and certain political parties and fronts have had to submit.

The reason is that Congress has been afraid to tackle the union movement because that movement has an unlimited power to tax the wages of about 12 million citizens and whole industries, such as coal, clothing, food and amusement, for money to be used as slush funds in political campaigns.

No other authority ever has had such power. Congress has passed laws forbidding business firms to spend their money or their stockholders' money on political campaigns, but unions, alone, still have the right to but or attempt to buy elections either openly if it suits them or by subterfuge through "educational" programs. Even religious organizations are on warning in the law that if any portion of their income be spent to influence legislation their tax exemption is forfeited. Then they must pay the tax. I doubt that this would ever be enforced, but that is beside the point.

No union is required to pay an income tax whatever use it may make of its money.

And a law adoped some years ago with intent to require "informational" returns for the edification of obscure file clerks in the treasury, has been a dead letter from the start. These returns can be so contrived as to be absolutely meaningless and still comply with this law.

The details of the privilege of unions are too great a mass to be discussed here, but the fact that not once has the American Federation of Labor or the C. I. O. been brought before Congress in the defensive, not to day defendant, status that other elements have occupied, is a measure of the power and privilege of these overbearing and ruthless forces. No committee of Congress ever has made a serious study of the constitutions of unions although every congressman should know that federal law and the force of policy amounting to law have compelled millions of persons to join unions who otherwise would have refused.

During the war the United States Employment service made itself a volunteer recruiting or dragooning agent for the unions by refusing to certify American citizens to war industries unless they had union cards or were willing to pay tribute and buy them. It still does.

It is fundamentally wrong of our government to interfere in the relations between a man who wants to work and the man who wants to employ him.

Next of Kin Share In Ohio Payments

Richland county veterans and their next of kin have collected $2,359,969 in Ohio bonus payments to date, according to a report released today by Director of the World War II Compensation fund, Leslie G. Scrimger.

This figure includes $2,287,197 to living veterans and $72,771 to next of kin. The average claim was $301.46 for the 7,587 claimants.

The next of kin total includes 194 claimants.

Surrounding counties paid the following totals to veterans and their next of kin:

Ashland, $810,863 for an average $298 claim; Crawford, a total of $982,463 for an average claim of $301; Holmes, $262,445 for a $299 average claim; Huron, $909,807 for an average $302 claim; Knox, $815,957 with a $300 average.

Richland county's average claim was $5.26 under the average for the entire state.

Of the 761,395 living and next of kin claims received by the state as of July 1, the director said 523,407 were received from living Army veterans and 215,782 from living Navy veterans.

ISSUES WARNING

Scrimger warned all eligible living veterans and next of kin of deceased Ohio veterans that they have less than a year to file their claims. The deadline is June 30, 1950.

All claims, he said, are paid soon after the eligibility can be legally determined.

"We are continuing to handle all claims as soon as possible in the order in which they were numbered when received in our mail room," the director explained.

Burglars Loot Filling Station

Theft of $20 in cash and several items of merchandise from the Midway filling station, U. S. Route 30-S, Monday night, was reported to sheriff's deputies yesterday.

L. S. Timms, 246 West Sixth street, manager of the station, told deputies the station was entered through a window which was pried open. Timms listed the missing items as $20 cash, four boxes of cigars, four cartons of cigarets, tow pair of gloves, four pipes, one electric fan, money from the juke box, chewing gum and nail files.

WATER LESSON—John Domer, standing, instructs a group of beginning swimmers in a Red Cross class at Liberty Park pool. Classes are held daily for beginners and advanced swimmers of all ages under the supervision of trained instructors. The school began yesterday.

500 Children Start Swimming Classes

Red Cross swimming classes got under way yesterday with more than 500 children enrolled in the first classes at Liberty Park and North Lake Park pools.

Life-saving and adult beginners' classes at Liberty Park pool last night pushed the total of swimming "students" over the 700 mark.

Red Cross Water Safety Chairman Sam Fox estimated that more than 2,000 persons would obtain instruction in Richland county this year. Last year 1,200 persons were enrolled in Richland county.

Fox expects 800 to enroll in the free swimming classes at the two public pools in Mansfield. Children who have not filled out an application can enroll by bringing a note signed by their parents.

Children wishing to enroll in a beginners' class should take their notes to Liberty park pool at 8 a. m. or North Lake pool at 9 a. m., he said.

Those wishing to enroll in intermediate or swimmers classes should take their notes to Liberty park pool at 11 a. m., Fox said. The Red Cross had received 693 applications yesterday afternoon.

The classes are conducted by the Red Cross in the interest of creating greater water safety.

"We hope to cut down on the terrible amount of drownings through our Red Cross program, Fox said.

"The average person would think that there would be more automobile fatalities than deaths through other causes, but there were 15 drownings in Ohio over the Fourth of July week end and 13 traffic deaths," he added.

Deny Rumor Of Layoffs

Widespread rumors that several hundred more employes were furloughed last week at the Mansfield Westinghouse plant were denied today by company officials.

Officials said the present employment rate is 3,100 and that employment has been "kept at a steady level for better than six weeks."

Nearly 5,000 workers have been furloughed at the plant in less than a year.

Meanwhile, J. H. Ashbaugh, vice president of the appliance division plant here, announced that the local plant would be closed for the annual vacation, July 22 to August 8. The East Springfield, Mass. appliance plant will close form July 15 to Aug. 1.

Ashbaugh said the vacation period will include both shop and offices, closing down the sales, service, order service, shipping, accounting and advertising departments. There will be no telephone service at the plant and no shipments made during the vacation period.

Saves Infant From Blaze

Stove's Blast Destroys Home

IBERIA — Mrs. William Baldwin, of Galion R. D. 2, carried her week-old daughter, Ellen, from a flame-filled bedroom of a nearby farm house yesterday afternoon before fire destroyed the five-room frame structure. A kerosene stove explosion in the kitchen started the blaze.

Miss Susan Miller, Galion, domestic in the Baldwin home on the Al Elder farm in North Bloomfield township, Morrow county, had just left the kitchen when the blast occurred.

The Edison fire department was summoned by neighbor, Mrs. Clarence Sites. The firemen prevented the blaze from spreading to the outbuildings but the house and its furnishings could not be saved.

Mrs. Baldwin and Ellen, accompanied by a son, David, 1, went to the nearby home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Sites, to join another son, Jimmy, and gain shelter. Baldwin was away from home at the time as he is employed in Galion.

Edison firemen made no estimate of the loss.

MOVING DAY—

When the Mansfield Public library closed all day last Friday so equipment could be moved in preparation for the beginning of work on the remodeling project, members of the library staff didn't get a holiday. Instead they worked twice as hard as usual moving and rearranging books and storing away reference material after workmen moved stacks and the large desk to the front of the building. Staff members got right into the spirit of things as they arrived dressed in blue jeans and old clothes to assist in the "moving day" work.

LONG DISTANCE AD

News-Journal circulation department employes have no end of surprises. They even get replies from British Honduras. Today, the department received a reply to an ad for a maid in a Woodland home, which ran in the N-J in March. Since the reply was just four months late, the position has been filled. The applicant, Miss M. A. Cargill of Belize, B. H., gave her reference, however, as the Edward J. Donath family, 477 Westview boulevard. And thereby hangs a tale. The Donaths became acquainted with Miss Cargill in an exchange letter and have been corresponding with her for the past two years. Frequently they send her clippings or copies of the News-Journal so that she man become acquainted with this country.

Donath said today the young British subject is anxious to come to this country to make it her home and hopes to get employment here.

Plan Now Before House

Votes To 'Up' Jurors' Mileage

The Ohio Senate yesterday passed and sent to the House a bill which would permit counties to create garbage disposal districts outside municipalities.

While no move to form districts has been made here, county health officials have endorsed the proposal as a means of eliminating health hazards in Mansfield suburban districts.

Douglas P. Griffin, sanitary engineer for the Mansfield and Richland county health district, estimated that 10,000 persons who live near Mansfield have no adequate sewage disposal system unless they build them themselves.

Under the bill now in the Ohio house, the county commissioners could create the sewage disposal districts. Mortgage revenue bonds would be issued and paid off by the property owners who derive benefit from the systems.

The senators also passed House-approved proposals to:

Boost mileage allowance for court jurors from three to five cents and put it on a daily basis, instead of weekly;

Raise county school superintendents' travel allowance from $300 to $600 a year and board members from $300 to $500;

Change the state constitution so counties can have more than one probate judge. Voters will have the final say on the proposed change at the polls.

The Senate passed and sent to the House a measure that authorizes five or more war veterans to form non-profit corporations to build homes.

The House approved creation of a nine-member commission to study reorganization of school districts, principally rural. Members have a year to recommend legislation to carry out changes. The measure now goes to the Senate.

Eagle Booked For Mansfield Wrestle Card

Don Eagle, the full-blooded Indian wrestling star, will come back to Mansfield Saturday night to battle Angelo Martinelli in the finale of a unique show.

Eagle, one of the leading challengers for the National Wrestling association championship, has always wrestled the rougher ring element in the Mansfield ring. However, Martinelli is cut out of the same pattern as Eagle. Both are fast and clean and for quality of wrestling it should be the best seen in Mansfield in a long time.

A tag team bout plus a couple of 30 - minute affairs round out the card. The finale and the tag bout are one-hour affairs to be decided over the two - of - three - fall route.

The same four grapplers will participate in the first three bouts. The quarter includes Ruffians Jack Vansky and Green Hornet and two members of the scientific gentry, Ronnie Etchison and Waldek Kawalski. Etchison is one of the better young wrestlers.

Promoter Clete Kuffman will pair these grapplers just before show time in the 30 - minute bouts. Winner of each will choose his partner for the tag team affair.

Tickets are on sale at City News.

Kauffman originally had four girls scheduled this week but a misunderstanding of dates with his Columbus booking office caused a change in personnel. However, Kauffman plans to bring two girls here next week.

Joost Pulls Macks Into Contention

By TOM BRISLIN

PHILADELPHIA — (INS) — Three years ago crafty Connie Mack resurrected Eddie Joost from baseball's graveyard and the snickers were audible all over the American league.

Alleged experts questioned the sanity of Connie the master's move.

Joost, they shouted is all done.

Joost, they shrilled, is a "has been."

Joost, they cried, is a "never was."

Today, that same Joost is the sensation of the major leagues. He can quite easily be the pendulum to swing the 1949 American league pennant to shrewd, 84-year-old Mr. Mack and his Athletics.

Joost's powerful hitting and his masterful fielding have been the talk of the majors all season.

Here he is, at 33, rated the best defensive shortstop in baseball—and that takes in Lou Boudreau of the Cleveland Indians, Vern Stephens of the Boston Red Sox, and all other candidates. Heretofore a member of the "good field—no hit" club, he is now batting over .300.

Fans all over America elected Eddie shortstop on the American league All-Star team which will collide in the mid-season charity game with the National league next week.

Yet the experts who lifted eyebrows when Mr. Mack pulled Joost out of Rochester in 1947 can hardly be blamed for questioning Connie's move.

The bespectacled Joost had bounced in and out of the big time since 1936. Never had he hit more than .253 in the majors and his best year in the minors he batted only .289.

In all the rest of his career Joost hit only 15 home runs all together. His lifetime batting average was a measly .225.

But here in 1949, Joost is surpassing his great 1948 season. Already he has 18 homers, over 55 runs batted in, and is the chief cog in baseball's best doubleplay combination.

There's a lot of talk about batting stances, wrist action, and so on resulting in the "new" Joost. But that's only part of it.

The truth is, it's grateful Eddie Joost paying off in base hits for an old man's faith in him.

Dom Shows Joe How It's Done

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The youngest of the great DiMaggio clan, Dom, although enjoying his best year in baseball, has been shoved into the background by the electrifying comeback of big brother Joe.

Nearly all fans know that Joe has slammed five home runs since his return to active competition a week ago. But few are aware that Dom has made more hits than any other American leaguer and is second only to Detroit's George Kell in batting.

But Joe faded into the background last night despite his double, single and two walks in four times at bat for the New York Yankees.

Dom walloped a home run and triple and scored two runs to lead the Red Sox to a 4-2 triumph over the Yankees. This helped the Red Sox snap an eight-game losing streak. In addition, Dom made the fielding play of the game, coming up with a brilliant running one-handed catch of leadoff batter Phil Rizzuto's bid for a triple in the eighth. Since two walks followed, Dom's catch definitely saved the game for Boston.

Dominick's two blows gave him 93 hits for the season and boosted his batting average to .332. Joe is batting .414 but has played in nine games compared to 68 for Dom.

The victory cut the Yankees' margin over the idle, runner-up Philadelphia Athletics to four games.

The third place Cleveland Indians advanced to within six games of the Yankees, drubbing the Tigers in Detroit, 8-1.

The St. Louis Browns came up with six runs in the seventh inning to defeat the Chicago White Sox, 9-5. Paul Lehner singled with the bases loaded to drive in two runs, and when Catcher Joe Tipton let the throw home get away from him, then threw wild to third, everybody scored.

The second place St. Louis Cardinals cut Brooklyn's National league lead to one game by winning in 10 innings, 2-1, from Chicago while the Philadelphia Phils whipped the Dodgers, 7-2.

Ken Heintzelman, veteran Philly southpaw, allowed seven hits in racking up his 10th victory and his fourth straight over the Dodgers.

All games were played at night except the Cubs-Cards game. All other teams enjoyed an off day.

Gorman-Rupp Hosts Marion

The Gorman - Rupp softball team is to go after its ninth victory in 15 starts at 8:30 p. m. tonight when it plays host to Smitty's Grill of Marion.

The contest is a non - league game and the only outing of the week for the Pumpers. Both were members of the North Central Ohio league last year but have not met this year. Gorman-Rupp is now playing in the Ohio Major circuit.

Stretch Regula is the likely call tonight. His brother Bob pitched both games last week while Stretch was on his honeymoon.

Plays Under Lights

Lexington, Richland county baseball league team, plays under the lights at Ashley Thursday at 8:30 p. m. Ashley has beaten Lexington twice this season. Monday, Lexigton defeated Cardington, 7 to 4, and the Old Timers, 6 to 5.

Cleveland Indians Win 5th Straight Game

Tribe Moves To Six Tilts Behind Yanks

CHICAGO —(AP)— The Tribe is on the warpath.

Winners of five straight and 19 out of 26, the Cleveland Indians tonight tackle the Chicago White Sox in an effort to equal their previously high in straight wins for the year.

Veteran Al Benton gets the call for Cleveland to face young Bob Kuzava who sports a 4-1 record. Benton, with an earned run average of 1.54—lowest among Tribe hurlers—has won three and lost two.

From June 12 through June 17 Cleveland won six straight games and last night they won No. five in a new victory streak from Red Rolfe's Dethoit Tigers, 8-1.

Lefty Frank Papish hurled seven-hit ball to dump the Tigers and take his first game this season. It also was his first victory for Cleveland since being acquired from Chicago last year.

By sweeping the three-game series with the Tigers, the Tribe advanced within six games of the Yankees. They also picked up a half game on the idle Philadelphia Athletics to move within two games of second place.

Tribe hitters—with the exception of Manager Lou Boudreau—made their presence felt early in the game. They cracked 14 hits in all and scored four times in the first two innings.

The Tribe greeted righthander Marv Grissom with four straight hits worth three runs to start the ball game. Grissom, who had won two and lost none, was removed in the second.

With one out in the first, Ray Boone doubled to left and scored on a single by Mickey Vernon. Vernon, who took second when a useless throw was made to catch the flying Boone, scored on a single by Larry Doby. Doby took second on a wild pitch and scored on Gordon's single. The Tribe picked up another run on two singles and a walk in the second.

GORDON BOPS HOMER

Gordon rammed his 13th home run with Doby on the fifth to give the Tribe a 6-1 lead. They added two more markers in the sixth.

Papish, making his second start of the season, was wild but effective. He walked five men in the first three innings and a walk, a double and a long fly scored the Bengals' only run in the third.

Boudreau, who entered the game with a .500 average for his last 26 at bats, went hitless in four trips. His bat was unheeded, however. Dale Mitchell, Doby, and Gordon had three blows apiece. Boone and Vernon got two each.

Illegal Putter Puts American On Sidelines

SANDWICH, ENGLAND — (AP) — An ugly looking old golf club with a broken nose kept the United States army from having a representative in the British open championship play opening today.

The club in question is responsible for Sgt. Charlie Rotar of Canton, Ohio, a professional stationed in Frankfurt, Germany, being sidelined as 96 challengers tee off at the Royal St. George's course in the 72 - hole medal play tournament.

Charlie brought the club with him from Frankfurt. It was his favorite putter — a handmade, goosenecked type with an aluminum head. Rotar used it when he stroked a respectable 74-76—150 to land among the qualifiers yesterday.

The royal and ancient golf club of St. Andrews' tournament sponsors informed him he was disqualified for using an illegal club.

The British golf fathers objected to the implement because if the shaft were extended down from the gooseneck it would hit the middle of the head instead of the heel.

"I've been here eight days," moaned Rotar, "and I've used this putter every day. But nobody ever said anything to me about it. Why did they wait until I had qualified and then give me the boot?"

LEADING YANKEE

The leading Yank is big Johnny Bulla, professional from the Westmoreland C. C. in Pittsburgh, who carded 69-72—141 in the two-day qualifying round.

Frank Stranahan, the amateur from Toledo, Ohio, finished five strokes behind Bulla, with 71-75—146. The last American representative is the 57-year-old transplanted Englishman, Willie Hunter, now a pro in Los Angeles, with 73-78—151.

Tourney Medalist Henry Bradshaw finished with 139 while Bobby Locke, the favorite, had 140. Bulla and Stranahan are rated second choices behind Locke.

Charles Meets Gus Lesnevich In Title Match

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK — (UP) — If Ezzard Charles retains his heavyweight title against Gus Lesnevich at Yankee stadium on Aug. 10, he will arrange for still another defense within two months, manager Jake Mintz announced today.

Charles, of Cincinnati, who is recognized as world champion by the national boxing association, hopes that his acitivity will induce the New York commission also to recognize him. Charles now is recognized as champion by the national boxing association.

However, chairman Eddie Eagan of the New York commission held out little hope for such recognition today. Eagan said his commission would N-O-T recognize the stadium fight as a title tilt.

He emphasized that New York recognition could be gained only by fighting the winner of the bout between Bruce Woodcock of England and Lee Savold of Paterson, N. J., at London, Sept. 6.

Meanwhile, the British boxing board of control will add to the confusion by recognizing the Woodcock - Savold winner as "world champion."

When Charles agreed yesterday to fight for the newly organized international boxing club of New York at the stadium on Aug. 10, he arranged for the quickest first defense in heavyweight history.

The slender Ohio negro won NBA recognition as successor to the retired Joe Louis by outpointing ancient Jersey Joe Walcott at Chicago on June 22. Only 49 days will have elapsed when Ezzard steps into the stadium ring.

That time will better the first-defense record now held by Louis. Bomber Joe won the crown from Jim Braddock on June 22, 1937, and defended it on Aug. 30 — 69 days later.

Possibly the top affair on the program pits Sons of Herman against Todd's Jewelry, Mansfield's winningest team, at Prospect park. The Hermans are third with three wins and two losses and defeated Todd's 4 to 3, the first time out.

The young Isaly Dairy aggregation meets VFW in the third encounter at Johns park. VFW holds a 3-to-0 win over Isaly's.

Guam Offers 'Foreign Legion' For Girls

By JANE COCHRAN

GUAM — (CP) — Men, disappointed in love, have always been able to run off to sea or join the French Foreign Legion.

Women, until recently, could only learn to knit.

Things have changed — now the disappointed fair maidens go to Guam, go to work for Uncle Sam, accumulate a tidy nest egg that will help any future romance along, and have the time of their lives doing it.

What's more, the man on Guam, the United State's main Pacific island possession, outnumber the women 100 to one!

THREE MOTIVES

Government personnel executives, in charge of recruiting the women who serve as stenographers, clerks, teachers and personnel workers on Guam, say there are three underlying motives causing a woman to seek employment on the island. The motives, all variations of the same theme are these:

1 — A chance at a different type of life — the "faraway places" theme.

2 — A means of getting away from something.

3 — An unhappy love affair. However, whatever the motive, the girls seem to thrive on Guam. It is unusual for one to be sent back home, where as men workers are returned by the hundreds because they cannot seem to adjust themselves.

The salary scale may have a lot to do with it—the lowest salary for a clerk-typist is $3,122 a year, free of income tax. Living quarters are free and food is never more than $1.25 a day. Life on Guam is casual and the wardrobe need not be up to Big City working day standards.

There are certain drawbacks — as to all seeming paradises. Girls applying for jobs on Guam are carefully screened and investigated to make certain that they are competent, mentally and physically fit.

HOT, RAINY SPOT

Guam itself is hot and rainy —90 inches a year—and the women's perogative of changing her mind won't work. She must stay for the duration of her contract — barring illness or an emergency.

There are also no dry cleaning plants on Guam and girls on Guam are never allowed to go out alone for any distance in the daylight and never at night. (With 100 men who'd want to?)

Only primitive facilities were available until a few months ago but now most quarters have modern pumbing and other comforts of home.

Work hours take a bit of getting used to—they start at 7 a. m. and end at 1 p. m., to escape the worst of the heat. However, the early work hours leave plenty of time for steak fries and beach parties, high points in Guamanian recreation.

Jobs held by women range from typing, clerking and clerical to teaching schools, serving clubs and mess halls. A few women have important administrative posts. Almost all are under 35.

LIVE IN COMPOUNDS

Quarters are prefabricated buildings or Quonset huts lined side by side in compounds. Compounds are fenced in and patrolled at night by guards and the girls are driven to and from their jobs in Navy or Army buses.

All eating is done mess hall style and snack bars operate between meals. Coffee is usually taken to the women workers twice a day.

On the credit side, more and more clubs, both for civilians and military personnel, are springing up. New hobby shops and recreation spots crop up daily. Movies, of the outdoor type are, of course, very popular.

Four offices recruit workers for Guam — the Army, the Navy, Army Exchange Service, and private construction firms. All of them warn prospects that Guam experiences typhoons of up to 70 miles an hour. However, they have little trouble in keeping their employment lists filled with girls who yearn to "get away from it all and see something different, for a change."

Seek Eisler Successor

Spy Hunters Launch Probe

WASHINGTON — (INS) — House spy hunters disclosed yesterday that an intensive search is underway to learn the identity of the successor of Gerhart Eisler as the secret Moscow-assigned leader of the communist party in the U. S.

They listed disclosure of the unknown agent as one of the major objectives of the House unAmerican Activities committee this session.

A committee source said that the present cominform agent is the second to be sent to the United States since Eisler's role was revealed more than two years ago by the house group.

At that time, Louis Budenz, former editor of the Daily Worker who broke with the party, listed Eisler as the No. 1 communist in the United States and declared that he was assigned by the Soviet government to direct Red activities in this country.

Eisler earlier this year jumped bond and escaped from the United States to Czechoslovakia.

A member of the house group said that Eisler's usefulness was ended when he was identified publicly, and a Czechoslovakian communist was sent to the United States to replace him. The spy prober said that when the latter's identity was discovered, the cominform agent returned to his native country and another replacement was sent

How To Be Smart

FORT WORTH, Tex. — (UP) — Officials of Arlington Heights high school here blinked their eyes when nearly every student taking an extra-curricular "achievement" test showed up with a grade of 99 or 100. The mystery was solved when school officials found a lock forced open on the door of the room in which test answers were kept.

Chiang Asks More Aid

NEW YORK — (UP) — Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek said yesterday that he will lead nationalist China's struggle against the communists and asked the United States to help if it wishes to avert another world war.

Chiang broke his long silence in an interview with Clyde Farnsworth, Scripps-Howard staff writer, and another American reporter at Taipeh, Formosa.

He told the two American newsmen:

1.—Although he may never resume political office, he cannot give up the "revolutionary leadership" of China he inherited from Dr. Sun Yat-Sen.

2.—"If communism is not checked in China, it will spread over the whole of Asia. Should that occur, another world war would be inevitable."

3.—"The first step, it seems to me, is for the United States to reactivate its policy of giving moral support to the Chinese government in its fight against communism."

Vote Fraud Trial of New Deal's 'Bright Man' Begins

LEXINGTON, KY. — (UP) — The trial of two prominent young Kentucky lawyers on charges of vote frauds in Bourbon county began in federal court here yesterday as Judge H. Church Ford overruled a motion for dismissal by the defense.

On trial are Edward F. Prichard jr., one-time "brigh young man" of the New Deal and assistant to three men who are now justices of the Supreme Court of the United States, and A. E. Funk jr., Lexington city attorney.

Picking a jury was the first problem, and it appeared that some time might be required to complete the selection of 12 jurors and two alternates.

By noon, the government had tentatively accepted nine prospective jurors, but the defense had not used any of its 10 unqualified challenges. The prosecution has six free challenges, and has used three of them.

Names of 30 witnesses called by the defense were revealed. They included J. Pelham Johnston, Lexington city manager, and Ted Grizzard, manager of Prichard's radio station WKLX, in Lexington. The witnesses were dismissed until Thursday morning, which indicated the trial would last at least a week, if not longer.

Prosecutor Claude P. Stephens agreed to let the defense use copies of testimony given before a Bourbon county grand jury which investigated the alleged frauds.

Seated at the defense table was A. E. Funk sr., Attorney General of Kentucky and father of one of the defendants. Victor Bradley of Georgetown heads the attorneys for the defense.

Stephens is being helped in prosecution of the case by George Gallagher, a special attorney sent from Washington.

$162,000,000 Ohio Legislation Due for Early Approval

State Needs Cash To Run Two Months

Paychecks Halted Until Bill OK'd

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Fast action is predicted today on legislation to appropriate $162,000,000 for various state functions.

The measures carry the following allocations:

Funds to run the state during July and August — $61,000,000.

State money to match local poor relief and expenditures — $2,000,000.

Funds for state construction projects — $99,000,000.

Sen. Margaret A. Mahoney (D-Cuyahoga), Senate majority leader, predicted passage of the $61,000,000 two - month appropriation. Enactment is expected this week.

Authority for the state to spend unencumbered money ran out last Thursday. Old age pensioners, state workers and lawmakers can't be paid until a new appropriation measure becomes law.

The two-month appropriation will provide the money. It includes $260,000 for the state fair in August and $22,000,000 to run schools the first quarter. Appropriations will be absorbed in the biennial budget when it wins final legislative approval.

The partial appropriation will give the Senate Finance committee more time to work on the two-year budget bill. The House approved $646,802,500 to run the state two years starting July 1.

The Senate Finance committee put back most of the major cuts made by the House. Senators then decided on a 3½ to 4 percent across the board cut of free funds to bring the total down to nearly $650,000,000. That would put the budget in line with Gov. Frank J. Lausche's recommendations.

Senators also vote on an emergency $2,000,000 poor relief allotment. The money will enable the state to match money spent by local poor relief districts. Rising relief costs caused the state to call $1,500,000 behind in its matching program for the first five months of 1949.

Chicks Hatch Out As Sun Boils Down

NEWARK — (AP) — It has been so hot here that dozens of eggs, left exposed to the sun, hatched out chicks.

A hatchery had thrown several crates of the eggs, considered unfit for use, on the city rubbish heap.

Residents of the area, attracted by "peeps", were astounded to discover dozen of baby chicks cracking out of shells and crawling about.

Little boys gathered up boxes of them.

The Humane society found the chicks so weak from the heat that it had to destroy them. Then the remaining eggs were covered with earth.

Keep Library At Newman

The branch library at Newman school will remain open in the old building until the new school building is ready for occupancy, Mrs. Russell Cline, branch librarian, said today.

Hours at the branch library are from 1 to 4:30 p. m. Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. Mrs. Cline conducts a story hour for children every Friday at 1:30 p. m.

Mrs. Cline said 45 children now are enrolled in the summer reading club at the branch library with July 15 set as the deadline for registration.

More than 1,300 books were circulated at the branch library last month, an increase of more than 700 over the same month last year, Mrs. Cline said.

Texas Takes Action To Halt Lynchings

AUSTIN, TEX. — (AP) — The Texas legislature has passed a bill making lynching punishable by prison or death. It will be the state's first specific law against lynching.

Aged Woman Prefers Jail To Persecution By 'Bootleggers'

BEDFORD, Ind. — (INS) — A 72 - year - old woman, held for the slaying of her grandson, will be permitted to remain in the Lawrence county jail until a grand jury investigation is completed.

Mrs. Ida Sturrock refused to leave the jail when offered her freedom pending the grand jury probe. She explained:

"I love to stay here — everything is so peaceful . . . it's the best home I have had in 20 years."

Mrs. Sturrock has admitted shooting her grandson, Roscoe G. Owings, 31, early Sunday with a .32 caliber revolver. She said he was going to attack her with a rock while in a drunken rage, and added:

"I didn't want to kill the boy, but I'm too old for a beating."

The 72 - year - old grandmother has lived alone in the Knob Creek section of Bartlettsville for several years, and is a welfare aid recipient.

Bartlettsville residents told officials the old woman has been subjected to abuse because of her strong opposition to drinking. They said bottles and cans frequently were thrown in her yard.

Mrs. Sturrock, in a letter to a newspaper, explaining her desire to remain in the jail at Bedford, said:

"I have the best home I have had in 20 years. The sheriff and his wife are so generous and kind. I am well satisfied. No bottles were thrown in my yard last night. I love to stay here — everything is so peaceful.

"I am happy in the cell. I'm not afraid of someone breaking in on me or someone driving up in front of the door with a stare of malice in their eye.

"P.S.: the jail is a wonderful place for an old lady like myself who has been abused like I have been by the bootleggers and beaten up by them."

million dollar bracket today despite thunder storms over New York, New Jersey and Connecticut.

The New York metropolitan area was sprinkled with from .01 to .07 of an inch of rain yesterday but the moisture did little more than settle the dust.

As the "fair and warmer" forecast continued in the east, retail produce prices in New York City showed a 15 per cent increase as a result of the 41-day drought.

Farm experts who estimate the crop loss at $20,000,000, say it will take several inches of drenching rain to end the dry spell.

RAIN NEEDED HERE

Rain also is needed in Ohio and throughout the mid-west, the weather bureau said today. There has been little rainfall for the past two weeks in northern Ohio. A bright and persistent sun has ripened wheat and oats ahead of schedule and hastened corn growth.

Perspiring Ohioans are asking theese questions about the current hot weather and forecaster George Mindling at Columbus supplies the answers;

(1) Any prospect of a break in the heat wave? No. At least, through Friday.

(2) Any cool air coming from Canada? Not for Ohio through Friday and doubtful if any such relief arrives after that.

(3) Any chance of rain? Prospects food for a few scattered showers, particularly in northern Ohio. Not enough, however, to give heat relief.

(4) Any general slump in the humidity? No.

(5) Will it get hotter? It'll remain about the same.

Chiang Plans Comeback In China, Writer Says

Predicts Victory Over Reds

Again Seeks Aid From U. S.

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN

TSAOSHAN, Formosa — (INS)— Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, convinced of China's ultimate victory over communism prepared today to emerge from retirement and resume the "revolutionary leadership" of the Nationalist forces.

In an historic interview granted to this correspondent and another newsman yesterday, the Kuomintang leader, now "retired" to Formosa declared that the Chinese communists can still be beaten.

Chiang warned, however, that if the United States fails to help in the battle against Mao Tse-Tung's communist armies, all Asia will become Red-dominated and a third World war will be inevitable.

He accused Russia of laying the basis for the communist sweep over China at a Moscow conference in 1928, and added that the Kremlin's eventual goal is to take over all Asia.

Further, said the generalissimo, Russia's failure to live up to the Yalta agreement and restore Manchuria to China, enabled the communists to train a huge, powerful army there.

ASKS U.S. AID

Appealing for aid from the United States, Chiang said:

"I take it that the United States, with which we fought together and bled together . . . will not be indifferent to what is going on in China . . .

"Otherwise the future of the fight by the democratic countries against communism will be gloomy indeed and a calamity for mankind will be irretrievable."

The generalissimo disclosed that he and his aides have, in the past ten days, drawn up a new major plan of strategy. He gave no details, but said he was satisfied with the program.

"I do not believe that efforts —whether our own efforts or of friendly countries—to save the situation in China will be too late."

Chiang stepped down from his post as president last Jan. 21 and was replaced by vice president Li Tsung-Jen, whose headquarters are in Canton.

But in his interview yesterday, the generalissimo said:

" . . . As long as independence of the nation and freedom of the people are not achieved, I cannot shirk my responsibility of carrying on the struggle."

SENATE OPENS DEBATE ON ALLIANCE—Historic Senate debate on the North Atlantic Security pact is opened in Washington by Sen. Tom Connally (arrow), (D.-Texas). The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee stated flatly that the power of Congress to declare war is unimpaired by the 12-nation alliance and asked for quick ratification of the anti-communist pact. Potters Find Six 'Guilty'

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.— (AP) — Six members of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters (AFL) have been barred for ten years from any active part in the affairs of their local unions, found guilty by the union's convention last Saturday of violating the union's constitution by taking to an Ohio court a suit challenging pay increases for top officials of the brotherhood. The case now is in the Ohio Court of Appeals.

Harry Gill of East Liverpool, Ohio, managing editor of the union newspaper, "the Potters Herald," announced the ten - year ban of the six men yesterday. The convention has been held behind closed doors here.

Huge Flood Project Now Takes Shape

Move Designed To Aid Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH—(UP)—A $47,000,000 project designed to keep flood waters away from Pittsburgh and its environs in a three-state area is taking shape at nearby Saltsburg, Pa.

The Conemaugh Dam, key project in an 11-reservoir flood control program, is expected to be in operation by the fall of 1951.

At ground-breaking ceremonies for the gigantic reservoir, Army engineers hailed the plan as an important link in national security, protecting the world's greatest industrial region.

Expected to reduce the maximum flood level at Pittsburgh by four feet, the dam will be kept empty so that its entire capacity will be available for storage of flood waters from the Conemaugh River basin.

The blueprints call for construction of a wall 1,300 feet long and 140 feet high. The Army wanted a bigger dam, but decided to trim the specifications to preserve the communities of Saltsburg and Blairsville.

The Conemaugh Dam will be coordinated with other reservoirs in the projected system to achieve complete control of the Conemaugh Basin. Six of the 10 other reservoirs in the program are completed.

"This is one of the soundest and most profitable investments our government has ever made," Maj. Gen. Joseph C. Mehaffey, chief Army engineer of the Ohio River division, said at the ground-breaking.

Mehaffey, former governor of the Panama Canal Zone, said the disastrous flood of 1939 convinced Congress that flood control is "a national as well as a local problem."

Vets In Training To Contact Cleveland

Veterans now receiving training from the Mansfield Veterans Administration office under Public Law No. 346 are asked to refer requests for information to the Cleveland office.

VA officials transferred these files from Mansfield to Cleveland, according to Charles A. Swain, chief of the rehabilitation division in Mansfield.

Hitting Quiz Show Jackpot Not As Nice As It Sounds

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Ever wonder what happens to people who win those fantastic assortments of prizes put up by radio shows?

Does hitting the jackpot put them on easy street? And how do they pay their income tax?

Let's look in on a couple of them and see if winning a pot of gold is as much fun as it sounds.

Mrs. Marie Spangler, 25-year-old wife of a Glendale, Calif., engineer, cleaned up $26,000 only a few weeks ago. Her problems —such as what to do with a $3,000 goldplated lawnmower — are just beginning.

The other winner qualifies as a veteran.

A show handed her $20,000 worth of prizes more than a year ago. Her life is just now settling back to normal. She is Mrs. Ward George, 33, of Chatsworth, Calif., and if they ever meet, she could probably pass on some good advice to Mrs. Spangler.

Mrs. Spangler is still in the excited stage. But although she has yet to receive her new sedan, diamond - crusted wristwatch and $1,000 worth of dancing lessons, she is already mulling ways to get out from under the deluge.

Mrs. Spangler hit her jackpot via telephone. But Mrs. George got the full Hollywood treatment. She was flown to filmland from her Lebanon, Ore., home and quartered in a plushy hotel. On her big night she answered the $20,000 question to the pop of flashbulbs and the click of press agents' typewriters.

In Lebanon Mrs. George had lived with her husband in what she described as a 16 by 20-foot shack built of lumber rejected by a nearby mill. They were $600 in debt on the $850 purchase price.

Mrs. George got a house, a production line job in a large tract in the San Fernando valley. But she didn't have it long. She learned that gifts, even the radio variety, are classed as earned income and are taxable.

Uncle Sam's share was $6,800, says she. And she had to peddle her home and furnishings to raise the cash.

"Most people look on our having to sell the house as a strark tragedy," says Mrs. George. "However, we do not consider this the case. There are a great many factors besides the dollar sign."

Would she enter another contest?

"Why should I be a glutton. I like to see other people get the break I got. And besides—I think I'll let somebody else pay the taxes this year."

Take over, Mrs. Spangler.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

PAGE FOUR — MANSFIELD, OHIO, WEDNESDAY, JULY 6, 1949

Radcliff's graduating class was told not to pay any attention to advice from old people. The speaker, Harold Ickes, being substantial age, himself, probably realized that would be the young grads' attitude anyway.

Accolade To Civic Endeavor

MORE THAN passing comment is merited by the first major post-war Independence Day celebration staged by the Mansfield Public Parks association. The crowd, estimated at 6,000, clearly expressed its appreciation of the excellent display of fireworks which concluded the evening's show.

The program featuring youth activities and the novel participation by the audience in the "God Bless America" number were an interesting departure from the old-time Fourth of July oration. They, symbolically, substituted action for high-flown words.

That the show helped prevent the usual holiday accidents which come from inexpert handling of fireworks by children who have no chance to see a professional display, there can be no doubt. And it is regrettable that the Parks association did not "break even" financially. However, it is encouraging to note that the group is already planning another celebration for next year.

Repetition of such events frequently leads to greater attendance. We hope that will be true in 1950—although it should not be forgotten that 6,000 was a good crowd for the first major celebration in a number of years, staged, necessarily, on one of the hottest nights of the year.

Discomforts of Civilization

MOST GRIEVOUS thing about returning from a vacation is that you have to go back to wearing a lot of clothes. Ohio's resorts are peopled with happy creatures wearing only shorts (and contrivances called "bras" by the feminine half). They move about untrammeled by belts or—uh—girdles. They wear only such shoes as are necessary to protect their feet. Socks—they never heard of them. Neckties—it's a laugh.

Of course, a business man clad only in shorts would probably find his back sticking to the office chairs and a secretary can sneak off her shoes while standing behind a filing case. But it does seem there ought to be some compromise between the great, the bare-skin comfort of thickly-populated resorts and the clothing-bound discomfort of half-deserted cities in torrid mid-summer.

Maybe someone could devise a shirt that consists of back and necktie only and trousers that have detachable legs from the knee down. But it's not an idea worth sweating over. There's enough perspiration around already.

Australia Educates Newcomers

A COMPREHENSIVE program for turning displaced persons into well informed citizens, at home in their new environment, is being carried out in Australia. Admitting about 6,000 displaced persons a month, the Australian government is endeavoring to prevent these Poles, Ukrainians, Italians, Yugoslavs and Czechs from becoming encysted in small racial groups.

In four camps near Naples, in which refugees on their way to Australia stay for four weeks, instruction in the English language is given and the Australian way of life is described. Each ship carrying the migrants to the island continent is supplied with a library of books about Australia, and instructors use lectures, classwork and films in educational work. After reaching their destination, they spend some time in reception camps, with further introduction of Australian ways.

This is a sound idea. These new citizens are expected to provide Australia with badly needed labor reinforcements. They will become happier and more useful as they can adapt themselves to life in their new home. By this educational project they are enabled to avoid the period of nostalgia and civic backwardness which results when any racial group retires to itself instead of mingling with the native citizens of its adopted country.

An encouraging bit of information is to the effect that: "Six feet of moist earth is a protection against the atom bomb"—but, come to think of it, that's a rather ominous depth.

The present assessed valuation of New York City is $18,000,000,000—which is a nice profit on the original investment of $24.

Nice time to explore some of Richland county's "back roads" and avoid congested highways.

"Put it on the shelf," said Kelsey without missing a rub. The check was for two million dollers.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

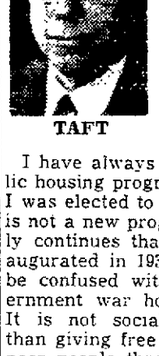
THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES last week passed the public housing and slum clearance bill, which I supported in the Senate. This bill has been subjected to the most violent attacks which entirely misrepresent the character of the bill.

The housing problem is about the most difficult economic problem we have today. It arises out of the high-cost of housing. There are probably 20 million families in the United States who can't afford to pay the rent or carrying charges on new houses built at present costs. The building industry has priced itself out of the mass market. Of course, most of the lower income families find old houses in good condition at rents they can pay, but a considerable number in the lowest range can afford to pay only such low rents that the landlords can't pay taxes and expenses and still keep the property in decent repair. That's what makes slums.

This same slum creation has been going on under private enterprise for the last hundred years. It is just one of those defects which justifies some government remedy.

* * *

THIS bill gives help to cities to tear down the old slums. It provides a subsidy for those unable to pay an adequate rent on the basis of which subsidy local communities can borrow the money to build public housing so that new slums will not take the place of the old slums destroyed.



TAFT

I have always been for a public housing program since before I was elected to the Senate. This is not a new program, but merely continues that which was inaugurated in 1937. It should not be confused with the vast government war housing program. It is not socialism any more than giving free medical care to poor people through public general hospitals is socialism.

England and the United States have always recognized the interest of the state in providing a decent minimum standard of living in food, clothing, medical care and education for those unfortunate enough not to be able to pay for it in full themselves. Housing is only an extension of the same principle to decent shelter which certainly is absolutely necessary if the children in a family are to have anything like equality of opportunity.

* * *

THE bill is entirely different, for instance, from the so called national health insurance which proposes to socialize and nationalize all medical care and the medical profession. That bill taxes the people 6 billion dollars a year and promises free medical care to all, including those who can afford to pay for it. This housing bill is not a federal program, but one of aid to the States and cities to be used by them only if they desire it. It does not scatter government service to the entire population at huge cost, but only to those who cannot, by any other means, obtain decent housing. Altogether, government housing may cost the federal government 250 million dollars a year for the duration of the program, which will be about forty years. That seems a small items for such an important thing as housing in a federal budget of $42 billion. The Armed Forces alone are spending about $15 billion a year, or fifty times the annual cost of this program.

If the localities take full advantage of the program, they will borrow and spend $1 billion a year in public housing construction during the next six years. Private industry is spending about $7 billion a year, so that it will still provide by far the greater portion of all the homes. It is no reflection on private industry to say that it never has and probably never will meet the serious low income problem in the housing field.

More RFC Men Get Lush Jobs

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Senator Fulbright's probe of lobbying inside the Reconstruction Finance corporation has unearthed a long list of RFC officials who have resigned to take jobs with companies securing RFC loans.

The Arkansas senator began his probe after this column exposed the fact that two important RFC officials had joined the Waltham Watch company of Massachusetts and the Plywood Plastic corporation of Hampton, S. C., after recommending that these companies receive loans.

To remedy this, Senator Fulbright has introduced legislation whereby no RFC official can join a company receiving an RFC loan until two years after the loan is granted.

Meanwhile Fulbright's banking and currency subcommittee has dug up the following RFC officials who went to work for the same companies for which they recommended loans.

E. Merl Young, RFC examiner, recommended a $10,000,000 loan to Lustron corporation of Cleveland, then went to work for the company at more than double his RFC salary.

A. H. Graham, assistant manager of the Richmond RFC office, recommended several loans exceeding $2,000,000 for Baltimore Contractors, incorporated, then was hired by the same company at a salary increase of $5,000.

James C. Windham, an RFC administrative assistant, became treasurer of the F. L. Jacobs Co. of Detroit after it had received over $3,000,000 in government loans.

Joseph M. Ryan, chief of small business loans in Helena, Mont., went to work for the Custom Tire, incorporated, of Billings, Mont., at double his RFC salary after recommending a $50,000 loan.

Others who left RFC to work for companies receiving RFC loans are: L. C. Andrews, former manager of the San Antonio RFC office, hired by the Transport company of Texas; A. Ben Shallit, RFC engineer, hired by Usibelli Coal Mines, incorporated, of Suntrana, Alaska; Louis B. Duquette, district loan agent, hired by the Hyde corporation of Fort Worth, Tex.; Howard Gage, examiner, hired by the Dougherty Lumber company of Cleveland; Carl J. Grosswendt, RFC examiner, hired by the federal telephone and radio corp. of Clifton, N. J.

Three RFC officials also went to work for banks in which RFC had invested. They are: China R. Clarke, manager of the Minneapolis RFC office, who was hired by the National Bank of St. Paul; Edward B. Concannon, examiner, hired by the First National Bank of Lindenhurst, N. Y.; and John L. Kroeger, examiner, hired by the Dairyland state bank of Minneapolis

NOTE — Most RFC employes are conscientious public servants and approve of Fulbright's measure. Actually there has been less embezzlement in RFC than in most private banks, though they handle only a fraction as much money.

Truman and Taft-Hartley

Chances of Taft-Hartley repeal have gone a-glimmering this session, but President Truman is confident the next session will tell a different story.

"Those fellows who fought the repeal bill are going to find out that the people still want it when they get back home," Truman told Harvey Brown, outgoing president of the Machinists' union, and his successor, Al Hayes.

"We've lost a battle, but we're going to win the war," predicted Brown. "Labor has some unfinished business between now and the next session with the members of Congress who have gone back on their campaign promises to the common people of this country."

* * *

Real Estate "Front."

The real estate lobby has learned a trick from the communists. It has now discovered the advantages of "front" organizations. Behind the fancy disguises, however, it's still the same real estate lobby.

For instance, the Georgia Taxpayers' league has been flooding the state with post cards, opposing government housing. Inside fact is that these cards were actually written by Ed. Hiles, hired executive of the Georgia Savings and Loan league, an affiliate of the national organization run by Morton Bodfish, king of the real estate lobbyists, which has been indicted for failing to register under the lobbying act.

Hiles also failed to register when he came to Washington recently to lobby against public housing. Pinned down by this column, he admitted writing the post cards put out by the Georgia Taxpayers' league.

The League, he confessed, has "no charter, no bylaws, no nothing." The real estate groups simply thought it would be better to pose as the Georgia Taxpayers' league than give their own names, Hiles admitted. He identified B. A. Martin, legislative chairman of The Atlanta Home Builders' association, as head of the dummy organization. Phil L'Engle, another Atlanta builder, also is connected with it, Hiles said.

NOTE — This attempt to disguise the real estate lobby also reveals a new national strategy. Having lost its battle in Washington, the lobby is scattering to the states to carry on state-wide campaigns against public housing and rent control.

Assignment: America

Grounds For Suspicion

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK — Now that the holidays are over and I am still in one piece, I expect to spend the next fortnight and all my worldly goods trying to make the list of the ten best dressed women.

I do not covet this honor nor do I expect to be happy when I am all gussied up. But testimony in the Hiss trial has convinced me that true-blue, 100 per-cent Americans are always dressed fit to kill, even as school kids.

A gent always glossed o'er with five o'clock shadow, a moll with dish pan hands, or a kid in need of a haircut are apt to find themselves in the stocks as subversive characters, and no nonsense about it.

The United States has rightfully devised a good many loyalty tests and checks, by word, deed and association, in recent years. But the Hiss trial introduced a new note, the wardrobe test.

A defense witness for Alger Hiss was called to the stand to establish the ominous fact that Whittaker Chambers, when a high school pupil, was always untidy in appearance and usually needed a haircut.

This testimony kinda confused me at first. The witness seemed to be giving a first hand description of all the boys with whom I went to high school, a group conspicuous for its high percentage of Republicans and Democrats.

However, I began to get the pitch a little later when Mrs. Hiss on the witness stand described Mrs. Chambers as not "very presentable" in appearance or dress.

Well, nobody ever accused Mama of raising any real stupid children. I get a point as quick as the next. And the moral of such testimony is as plain as day, to wit, clothes make the man.

It suddenly set me to wondering whether I could pass the wardrobe test. If federal operators come to the apartment and start pawing through the closets and the bureau drawers, would I wind up in the cooler or the clear?

* * *

Moments of Uncertainty.

I THINK my spouse would be on the alkaline sartorial side, as a Republican and snappy dresser. But I am a neat and not very gaudy Democrat. I'm afraid it's the pokey for me unless I get a newer look than I got now.

Even now I can predict the new loyalty questionnaire. It will go something like this:

"Has your picture ever been in 'Harper's Bazaar'? in 'Vogue'? in 'Esquire'?

"Are you on the current ten best dressed list? Have you ever made the list; If you were on the list previously and then dropped, why were you dropped?

"What is your estimate of the personal appearance of Jeeter Lester? Broadway Rose? Tugboat Annie?

"What is your opinion of Valentine? Mainbocher? Dior; Vera Maxwell; Sally Victor? Sam, the two-pants man? Lilly Dache? Walk up two flights and save ten bucks? Jane Derby? A Brown Derby?"

These are parlous times, in which it pays to be a dude and a clothes horse. I figger Beau Brummel and Lucius Beebe are the only people really safe from suspicion.

I sidled into the office this morning, hoping against hope no one would report my shiny suit to the FBI before I could get up to Jacques Fath and beg him to make an honest woman out of me.

My! my! It's a good thing Abraham Lincoln lived in a day before it became a political crime to be untidy.

However, if anyone is still confused as to why Chambers became a communist, I think I have the ultimate clue. The old high school chum who put the fingers on Chambers said that in their salad days, Chambers was known as "Vivian," not Whittaker.

That would do it, brother, it surely would.

Farmer's Diary

Pleasant Memories

By CALVIN A. BYERS

THE Pennsylvania Dutch are clannish folk, who seldom get far away from home, partly because wherever they go, they take home with them. The homes of Morrison's Cove, where I lived as a boy, were sturdily built with thick-walled limestone foundations. Every farmyard had its springhouse and its summer kitchen.

Oil lamps furnished light for all houses and vehicles that must be on the highway after dark carried dashboard lanterns cinched firmly behind old Dobbin. Mail went by horseback or stage from one small town to another.

"Horseless carriages" were outlandish dream stuff. Bicycles were rare and wonderful. Telephones, phonographs, radio, nobody had heard of. Grain binders were rare. Most folks did all their work by hand. Rows of cradlers moved in rhythm — crews of followers bound the sheaves and shocked them neatly. Slow horses and creaking wagons hauled the heavy loads of sheaves and grain over stony roads.

Food was plentiful—indeed it was a major factor. Food preparation kept the women busy and furnished much of the fuel for conversation.

The church was the center of social activity as well as worship — the country school the center of learning. The "plain folk" considered higher education a luxury beyond most people. They had only one church college—to train their ministers.

As a small boy, I lived in a world peopled by Dunkards, Amish, Mennonites and Brethren. For a long, long time I thought every place in the world was much like our Cove—only bigger, grander, and more inspiring. When my older brother decided to go away to college and train for the ministry it seemed as though a door opened for us into the outer world, and was never closed again.

I remember his first trip home after a year away at Juniata college, Huntington, Pa. Mother prepared a big meal and we all waited a long time before he came—we were hungry. Later when the rest of us grew old enough for college, his guidance was a constant urge and inspiration.

There was a peaceful, beautiful heritage in that springfed limestone country. I remember the quarries where stone was blasted out for new houses and barns. I remember the perfect apples in grandfather's orchard—unsprayed and largely untended.

One variety had thick streaks of red running through—another we called the "Indian tree" because the skeleton of an Indian was removed when they dug the foundation for the barn.

Once we brought back, from Uncle Dave's an old discarded wheel, which we made into a water wheel. Buggies used to stop by our yard fence while our friends talked Dutch and watched it work.

I can hear it yet, merrily skipping over and over, making the toy pistons get warm to touch. The water fell upon it from the end of a rough board trough.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

"I probably can get the money for the movies, but I'll have to listen to a short lecture on how he had to walk ten miles to work when he was ten years old."

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Press Fair On Trials

IT IS HARDLY NECESSARY to note the importance of and public interest in the three trials involving communism that have been in the papers over the past weeks. One of them—the trial of the communist leaders before Federal Judge Medina—has been going on slowly for months. The Hiss and Coplon trials have been shorter, but in a sense more important to Americans concerned about the integrity of our government.

These trials have been reported in the press in some detail, depending on the policy of each paper and the available space. So far as my reading of papers is concerned, the coverage has been fair, ample and exceedingly restrained.

This is the more remarkable because of the unremitting campaign against communism—domestic and foreign—that has gone on in the press since the end of the war.

It also is remarkable since so much of the press is anti-administration, and the President has taken the attitude that the claims of subversive activities in government are largely "red herrings." The Hiss and Coplon trials are the first real tests of these claims, and it would be natural for papers that have expressed opinions on the subject to want these defendants to be proved guilty.

In the foregoing I have been referring to the news columns. Editorial pages have been almost completely silent during the progress of the trials, which is in pursuance of the best of newspaper tradition.

* * *

Not Always Thus

Since this restraint in comment is so well known in newspaper offices, little attention has been drawn to it directly. For the general public it deserves some spelling out.

There have been numerous battles over newspaper comment during trials in past years between judges and newspapers. A number of contempt proceedings have been instituted by irate judges. These battles have generally been won by the press.

The restraint in these recent and current trials has not been due to fear of the judges, however. It has undoubtedly been due to a self-imposed code by the press itself.

In the old days of the press, slashing, prejudiced editorials were leveled at defendants, prosecutors and judges. These, it came to be realized, created an atmosphere in which juries were directly or indirectly influenced. A jury can never be completely isolated from a prevailing public opinion, even when it is denied access to the papers. Therefore, whatever tends to create a public opinion oprates against the fairness of the trial. And hence the restraint now practiced almost universally.

Evaluation of a Senator

Taft Called 'Foremost Public Man'

IN HIS SUNDAY column in The Akron Beacon Journal, publisher John S. Knight made a thorough evaluation of the power and stature of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio in the public life of the nation today.

Publisher Knight pointed out that Senator Taft, in piloting to victory through the Senate his proposal "to use both injunctions and plant seizures to delay and help prevent national emergency strikes of the John L. Lewis variety," became spotlighted as "the foremost figure in American public life today."

Continuing, the Knight column says in part.

"To properly evaluate the caliber of Taft's leadership, it must be remembered that in the 80th Congress, Taft accepted the chairmanship of the Senate labor committee at a time when he was a candidate for the presidency.

"He could have ducked this hot assignment on the ground that it was loaded with political dynamite and might kill off his chances for the Republican nomination.

"Yet, he elected to serve and was at once attacked by Truman, Big Labor and the 'me too' Republicans as the 'symbol of reaction.'

"Taft was defeated at Philadelphia but the intelligence, logic and courage with which he has led the Senate minority in the 81st Congress have placed him head and shoulders above any of his erstwhile rivals.

"In the Taft-Hartley hearings, he revealed Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin for the lightweight that he is. Not even Sen. Claude Pepper, one of the most clever and resourceful debaters in Congress, could cope with Taft's logic or break down his arguments.

"With the Democrats in control of both houses of Congress and backed by a so-called "mandate" from the people, it has not been President Truman or Sen. Scott Lucas, the majority leader, but Taft who has completely dominated the scene.

"Although Taft lacks the 'personality' deemed so necessary for political success, although he possesses none of the oratorical gifts of a Borah or a Vandenberg or the handsome profile of a Scott Lucas, the man fairly exudes integrity and honesty of purpose.

"He has good fighting qualities, too, as Harold Stassen, who invaded Taft's home state in the 1948 presidential primary, will attest.

"In reply to Big Labor's assertion that Taft will be 'knocked off' in 1950, the senator has declared that he is ready for the fight and will campaign in each of Ohio's 88 counties with no holds barred.

"Agree with him or not, the people have an abiding respect for a man like that."

Shelby Council Transfers $15,000 to Water Works Fund

Park Tennis Court Repair Under Study

Lights Proposed For Night Play

SHELBY — City council last night passed a resolution authorizing the director of finance to transfer $15,000 from the light plant fund to the water works fund. The loan is to be for a six month period and will be effective Aug. 1 at a rate of two per cent.

Councilman E. E. Eckert objected to the minutes of the previous meeting which indicated he had voted in favor of the water rate hike on the first two readings of its passage. Eckert said he didn't vote at all at any time.

Mayor William Morris read the opinion of Director of Law William G. Depler regarding the disputed voting for the rate hike and a motion was made incorporating and accepting the opinion as part of the minutes of the meeting. Depler's opinion stated that both Eckert and Councilman J. M. Herlihy who had refused to vote on the issue had indicated acquiescence by their refusal to vote.

Mayor Morris reported to council that the investigation regarding the cost of hard surfacing the tennis courts at Seltzer park had revealed the cost to be approximately $1,000. He said he was checking into the possibilities of resurfacing the court with clay as a cheaper operation. Investigations of clay courts at a Lake Erie resort had shown that the clay courts would be cheaper and would hold up with the proper care.

A spokesman for the tennis enthusiasts inquired from council and J. P. Adkins, light plant manager, as to the possibilities of installing lights for night tennis. The suggestion was that the lights be metered. In this way the cost of installation and the use of the power and upkeep of the courts could be defrayed.

Mayor Morris said that he had received a letter from the commanding officer of the 831st Specialized Depot regarding the installation of lights for night baseball. The officer said the lights available were not suitable for night baseball and the depot had no funds available for such equipment.

Mayor Morris said that work on sanitary sewers for the Woodland Acres and Waldruff addition would start today with an inspector on the job.

Galion OKs Plant Rules

GALION — Council last night suspended rules to pass an ordinance to establish working conditions and a grievance procedure for production employes of the Municipal Light and Power plant. With the exception of a five-cent increase in the operating engineer-fireman classification the ordinance did not affect pay scales.

Another ordinance allowing similar working conditions for the plant's line department employes was given its first reading and referred to committees.

Rules also were suspended to pass the ordinance to sell municipal bonds and notes at two per cent interest to pay for construction of the proposed north side sanitary sewer. Under terms of the ordinance, the amount of the bonds is $11,500 and they would be issued to pay for the sewer until special assessments on property owners benefitted by the new sewer are levied.

Council passed an ordinance to pay Art Schreck, Inc., construction firm, $1,599.34 for work done at Amann reservoir in 1947. Council received and approved the appointment of Ben Muth to the city Board of Health for a five-year term. His term expired in January.

Grain Elevators In Crawford Receiving County Wheat Crop

BUCYRUS — Crawford county's grain elevators are busy this week receiving the county's wheat harvest. The crop is reported to be of high quality with a favorable moisture content ranging from 10.73 to 13.60 per cent.

Weight of the new crop is from 56 to 58 pounds per bushel, which is better than last year's crop, elevator operators pointed out. Wheat was quoted as $1.70 a bushel on the market here Monday.

Leonard Wurm of Dellas township is believed to have delivered the first of the new wheat crop to an elevator in this vicinity. He estimated his yield at 39 bushels per acre and delivered it to the Monnett elevator.

The Farm Bureau elevator here reported its first wheat Tuesday when A. C. Lust of Bucyrus, who operates a farm in Holmes township, delivered 350 bushels. The Zeigler Milling company here also received its first wheat Tuesday from Jay Stoltz, who resides south of here. He reported a yield of 39 bushels an acre.

One local farmer failed to arrive at the Farm Bureau elevator with his load of 150 bushels. Walter Lauthers reported that his grain wagon, hitched onto a tractor, overturned near the elevator and the entire load was dumped along the roadway.

HAWAII: A Wonderland of Beauty and Perfection

By ANN SCHOENMAN

HAWAII, the place people dream of as a perfect vacation land, is in our reach today as we leave for our two weeks free from worries about work.

Hawaii is as familiar to most people as Broadway and 42nd street. Today to the modern air traveler, the Islands lie just over the blue horizon.

To the new arrivals, Hawaii is a world of intense color. . . of deep greens, brilliant blues and fiery reds. This, along with the perfume, is probably the most powerful, and often the most lasting impression.

Stretching beyond the white sands of the beaches is the blue Pacific beckoning us to join in the thrill of surfboarding, boating, fishing and swimming. It's a land where dreams are made and fulfilled.

A pack trip to Haleakala Volcano can be planned. Our horses take us up the mountain trail above the billowing clouds. We pass strange volcanic formations and arrive at the mammouth crater's very edge.

The 90-mile tour of the island offers such attractions as the famed beach at Waikiki; the dramatic heights of the Pali, last defensive stronghold of Hawaiian Kings; the coral Gardens; native Hawaiian villages, pineapple plantations and Manoa, Valley of the Rainbows.

We'll see natives preparing for their many Hawaiian feasts. The villagers are dressed in bright prints as they work with fish, pineapple and other dishes which add to the gaiety of the holiday being celebrated. Songs of old Hawaii fill the night as the guests are served by the peoples of the Island.

The 20th Century hustle and bustle, imposed on the Island as a vital seaport, linking the sea and air routes of three continents doesn't touch the scenic splendor and dreamlike fascination which seem ageless. Hawaii, and that means all the islands, will always enchant the visitor particularly if he seeks the out-of-the-way places, where the picturesque life of the natives is still lived in all its primitive Polynesian charm.

A favorite quotation of the Islands is "There are two kinds of people—those who have visited Hawaii, and those who are going to. . . ."(Anon.)

COOL FOOD FOR HOT DAYS

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you like to serve soup and salad luncheons in hot weather, here are two new recipes for you. The soup pictured is a version of that old perennial "Banscht." The salad is a particularly delicious combination of July fruits with a creamy new kind of mayonnaise. Since it's a good idea to serve at least one hot food on each menu, even in torrid weather, you can let the soup preface a casserole dish. When you serve the salad you may wish to precede it with a warm soup

SUMMER FRUIT PLATE

Arrange attractively on an individual salad plate, a banana cut in half lengthwise and dipped in lemon juice, slice of honeydew melon, seeded grape halves, or pitted cherry halves, diced cantaloupe, and fresh pineapple cut in matchstick pieces. Top each serving with ½-cup Creamed Cottage Cheese. Garnish with sprigs of watercress and serve with Fruit Salad Mayonnaise.

FRUIT SALAD MAYONNAISE

Ingredients: 2/3 cup condensed milk, ¼ cup lemon juice, 1 3 cup orange juice, ¼ cup melted butter, 1 egg yolk, ½ teaspoon salt, dash of cayenne pepper, 1 teaspoon dry mustard.

Method: Put condensed milk, lemon juice, orange juice, melted butter, egg yolk, salt, cayenne and mustard into mixing bowl. Beat with rotary egg beater until mixture is well blended and thickened If thicker consistency is desired, chill before serving Makes 1½ cups

CHILLED BEET AND SAUERKRAUT SOUP

Ingredients: 2 cups beet juice, 2 cups sour cream, 4 cups chicken bouillon, 2 cups sauerkraut, salt and freshly ground pepper (to taste).

A miniature bride and groom, underneath an arbor of roses, made up the centerpiece. At each end of the table were placed pink candles, from which colored streamers ran to each place setting. Each guest was favored with a small duck made of shells holding the name card in its beak

Miss Strolein will be married July 9, at 11 a. m. to Harold Windbigler of Lexington, at the St John's Evangelical and Reform Church.

VITAMINS FOR JUNIOR

An easy way to get children to drink their orange juice and milk in hot weather is to serve these vitamins in the form of popsicles. Or use the molds for gelatin salads and other desserts.

Better Use of Land Sought Under Soil Conservation Plan

Program Offered To Farmers

Participation Is Voluntary

... By ROBERT SCHWEITZ

"Every acre of land has a certain use to which it can be put for best production," is the creed of the United States Soil Conservation service

Robert Hilliard, district soil conservationist, who opened his office in the Richland county courthouse yesterday has come to the county to make Richland farms more productive per acre for a longer time, he said.

The program is entirely voluntarily. Farmers may avail themselves of the service as they wish.

Conservationist Hilliard has been loaned to the county. His salary is paid by the federal government, because area farmers voted in a referendum last fall to have him come.

Petitions were circulated around the district. When filled they were sent to Columbus where arrangements were made to send a conservationist to the county.

BOARD SUPERVISES

Five farmers in the county were elected as a board of supervisors to decide policy and supervise the work to be done.

Those elected were A. L. Lockheart, Troy township; L. L. Rinehart, Sandusky township; Kenneth Nixon, Madison township; township; Harvey Snyder, Worthington township, and Warren Smith, Butler township.

The basis of all the work the soil conservationist does is the soil map. Indicated on the map are soil type, slope of the land, and the degree of erosion which already has taken place.

From this map he plans the farm for erosion control and to conserve the soil. His program includes soil conserving crop rotation, pasture management, and forestry.

On farm crop lands there are various controls used such as strip cropping, terraces, conconstructed waterways, diversion ditches and others.

All kinds of drainage work and farm ponds will be planned by trained engineers

Other than Hillard's services Richland county farmers now have available the services of agricultural engineers, foresters, and biologists

With this combination of experts the conservation service can draw up farm plans that will mean higher income and long time lasting productive agriculture.

And what's this? Hey, this is good! It isn't all inside.

Human customs, strange as they may be, have their good points. Fuzzy the bear now will agree When Fuzzy reached the ripe old age of three months, operators of the Delmar game farm near Albany, N Y, decided to give the cub a birthday cake, complete with candles (International)

Jap Beetles Strike Ohio

COLUMBUS —(INS)— State Agriculture Director A W Marion warned Ohio's farmers and home owners today of an invasion of Japanese beetles

Marion said the little bronz winged insects, about the size of a potato bug, struck early and hard this year at Belpre, Gallipolis, Cincinnati and Mentor.

He said the favorable conditions in these areas had permitted the bugs to destroy peach, plus, raspberry and sweet corn crops that ornamental trees, shrubs and lawns in these districts had been ruined

Marion said the state had sent 54 sprayer operators, beetle trap supervisors and trap tenders into the affected areas with tons of ddt and barrels of xylene and kerosene to stop the spread of the pest

The director said Cincinnati citizens and the Lake county nurserymen's association were investing $5,000 each in insecticides to combat the bug. He said his department would spend about $35 000 to control the beetle

Other areas affected were Marietta, Caldwell, Chillicothe Athens, Mt Vernon, Loudonville Elyria and Geneva

Refrigeration Unit Installed

The North Central Egg and Poultry cooperative in New Washington has installed refrigeration equipment for its egg receiving and holding rooms.

Farm pick-up trucks arriving at the plant are unloaded and the eggs immediately put in the new refrigeration room The eggs remain in the room at 55 degrees temperature and 80 per cent humidity until time for candling for quality

They are then transported to the candling room by means of a conveyor track

Following the candling, grading, packing and labeling operations, the eggs are moved into the holding room where they remain until shipped to market The holding room temperature also is 55 degrees

Fertilizer Users Meet Tomorrow

County Agent C N McGrew sent letters to 11 Richland county farmers who use metaphosphate fertilizer, warning them that it is time to order the experimental fertilizer

A meeting will be held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms in the Farmers Bank building tomorrow Guy Miller, extension economist, will be on hand to assist with the ordering The fertilizer is a product of the TVA and if it proves satisfactory it will be marketed commercially

Country Life, 'Fire Water' Given Credit

MEDELLIN, COLOMBIA — (UP)— Luis Anacreonte Alvarez, who claims to be 124 years old, attributed his long life today to country life and excellent set of teeth, still intact.

He said he drank frequently, but not excessively, the native cane drink known as aguardiente ("fire water"). He smoked cigarettes, he said, but no cigars.

Alvarez has been married four times and outlived all four wives All but the eldest of his 38 children are still alive The eldest he said died at 94 He lives in the rural community of Belmira and has never seen a movie, heard a radio or ridden a street car.

Unwittingly Gives Show

COLUMBUS —(INS)—Deshler-Wallick hotel manager Palmer R Suddaby was giving the show but didn't know it

Suddaby talking to his public relations man, John L Barcroft in the shade of the building, heard the ominous wail of fire sirens He invited Barcroft to watch with him from the curb He said

"It may be a good show - they're coming from all directions"

The engines arrived and stopped Firemen brushed past Suddaby. Then it dawned on him that the fire was in the hotel.

Rankin Hints '52-20 Club' To Be Eased Out July 25

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Rep Rankin (D) Miss, indicated yesterday that the veterans "52-20 club" will be permitted to die July 25 despite efforts to extend it for two years more.

The chairman of the House Veterans committee said he is opposed th continue the $20 weekly unemployment benefits for jobless World War II veterans He added

"I rather think the majority of the committee feels like I do. I doubt that there's much chance to get it continued. As far as I'm concerned, I would let this provision of the GI Bill of Rights terminate July 25.

"I never favored it in the first place. It was the Senate which put it into the GI Bill of Rights. By guaranteeing a jobless veteran $20 a week for 52 weeks, you pamper one crowd and discriminate against those who went back to work The question is whether you're going to encourage people to sit down or are you going to encourage thrift"

Rep. Huber (D) Ohio, and other committee members have been pressing for a continuation of the 52-20 law to enable veterans who become jobless to receive federal benefits

The cost of jobless benefits for veterans reached $3,550,287,897 by April 30 and is expected to top four billion dollars by July 25.

Big Feed Grain Supply Seen For 1950 By U. S. Agency

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The agriculture department reported today that with average weather during the remainder of the season, feed grain supplies for 1949-50 probably will be somewhere near the record supply of 145 million tons in 1948-49

Contributing to this supply will be the record carryover of feed grains, expected to total between 25 and 30 million tons of corn, oats and barley.

The department said that a sharp drop in feed grain prices similar to that of last summer and fall is not expected this year since prices are now near or below the support levels and a considerable part of the carryover will be under loan or in government ownership.

Reports on the disposition of crops issued in early May indicated unusually large farm sales of feed grains from the 1948 crops.

Sales of corn and barley are estimated to be the largest on record, and sales of oats and sorghum grains much above the average

The government meanwhile apparently expects a new wave of lumber price cuts later this year

This is evidenced by the agriculture department's announcement of a plan to cut the cost of national forest timber to private buyers in line with fluctuating market prices

The action will affect lumber purchased from national forests in California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Arizona, Nevada, Utah, New Mexico, Wyoming, Colorado and South Dakota

The department said that the program is designed "to protect purchasers of national forest timber from being squeezed between the cost of the timber fixed by bid contracts and falling lumber prices."

Claims Dodds Was Woman's Murderer

ATHENS — (AP)— Grover Rawlins came here from Ohio penitentiary yesterday to pin the slaying of a woman church worker on his former friend, Harry Dodds jr., 20.

Rawlins, 20, already is serving a life sentence for the murder of Miss Eleanor Gifford, who was beaten to death last Jan 3 in a burglary attempt. He pleaded Dodds, the witness testified of Mansfield Reformatory.

But, he told the jury, Dodds struck the blows which caused the woman's death after she surprised Rawlins, Dodds and James Stewart, 22, in her home.

Rawlins testified that he and Stewart, hiding in a bathroom, heard a thud and rushed out to find Dodds beating Miss Gifford with a hammer

Miss Gifford, he related, was screaming, "Don't, you devil, don't!"" guilty. He was a former inmate further, was shouting

"'Die, you S O B, die!'"

Rawlins, under cross examination, declared that Dodds acted "like a regular mad man."

"He was snorting real loud His eyes were glassy and his hair was over his eyes"

One of Dodds' pleas is innocent by reason of insanity, although the Lima state hospital, after observing him 30 days, pronounced him legally sane.

Rawlins testified that Dodds planned the robbery when Stewart and Rawlins met with him in a Columbus bus station

After they fled following the slaying, and Stewart disappeared at Dayton, Rawlins told the jury, Dodds threatened to kill Stewart.

He quoted Dodds: "'I should have killed Stewart and left his body over Miss Gifford's. I might kill him yet.'"

Rawlins explained that Dodds was fearful Stewart "Would talk"

Stewart, also under indictment for first degree murder, is still being sought by police.

Lauds T-H Injunction Provisions

Claims Legitimate Rights Uncurtailed

WASHINGTON —(UP)— Robert N Denham, chief enforcement officer of the Taft-Hartley act, said yesterday its injunction power "has contributed much to industrial peace" without hurting organized labor

"No legitimate right has been curtailed by it but untold dollars and otherwise lost manhours have been saved to the advancement of the general welfare," he said in an interview.

Denham is general counsel of the National Labor Relations board

The Senate last week added most of the Taft-Hartley injunction provisions to President Truman's bill to repeal the 1947 law

Organized labor promptly announced abandonment of its drive to repeal Taft-Hartley until after the 1950 congressional elections The unions will attempt to retire Sen Robert A. Taft, R .O , co-author of the bill, and others who voted with him to block repeal in this Congress

The Taft-Hartley law prohibits the closed shop, secondary boycotts and a list of unfair labor practices for unions and employers

Violations of these sections as well as national emergency strikes, can be halted by injunctions requested by Denham or Mr. Truman The President used the emergency strike section seven times in the first year of the law's existence, but not once since then Denham said that since Aug. 22, 1947, he himself had received 615 requests from employers for mandatory injunctions against unfair labor practices. He found 46 with merit.

These included 42 based on secondary boycotts, two on strikes against union certifications and two on jurisdictional strikes Courts granted injunctions in 25 cases, denied them in seven Eight cases were settled before the court acted and six are still pending

AIR PROGRESS—Fashions of 1929 were different from those of today—and so were airplanes. In July of that year TWA (then known as Transcontinental Air Transport) inaugurated its first cross-country air service The plane used in the first flight was a tri-motor Ford, shown in flight above with one of the modern 300-mile-per-hour transports used by TWA today.

Hints More Killings

NEW YORK — (INS) — A witness at the 'lonely hearts' murder trial hinted yesterday that the two defendants may once have been on the verge of confessing more killings than the three of which they now are accused They are on trial for one

The evidence was given by Roger O. McMahon, prosecuting attorney of Kent county, Mich., from where the defendants, Raymond Fernandez and his sweetheart, Mrs. Martha Beck, were extradited to face their present trial for the Jan. 4 killing of Mrs. Janet Fay, Albany, N. Y., widow.

McMahon was describing the talks he had with Fernandez and Mrs Beck in connection with their purported confessions to the slayings of a young Michigan widow and her infant daughter

The Michigan prosecutor said that Fernandez had given a statement and Mrs Beck then was brought into the room McMahon said he asked Fernandez to urge Mrs Beck to tell the whole story He quoted the 34-year old Fernandez as saying to the woman

"You might as well go ahead and tell him about the other three"

Mob Threatens Slayer of Two

SALYERSVILLE, KY. — (UP) — Newby Whitt, 19 - year - old hunter held in connection with the double slaying of a mountain couple, was taken to a jail outside the county yesterday after residents threatened to mob the local jail

Charles Williams, 27, was found Sunday sprawled on the floor in his cabin dead from shotgun wounds in the legs, chest and arms. His wife, Wannie Williams, 24, was found about 50 yards way, clutching her seven-month-old baby in her arms.

The Williams' baby received three shotgun pellets in the arm, but was not seriously harmed.
